Note

THE international collection of paintings may be found in the following galleries on the third floor: I, L, M, N, and O.

Paintings marked with an asterisk (*) did not compete for honors. They were, first, works not complying with published conditions; second, those not entered in competition; third, works by members of the Jury of Awards.

Paintings by members of the Jury and Foreign Advisory Committees were exempt from jury action.

Most of the paintings in this collection are for sale, and visitors are invited to seek information in reference to them. Inquiries for prices may be made at the desks of the catalogue clerks in the galleries. Prices and additional information may be obtained at the office of the Director of Fine Arts.

Bronze circular medallion, low relief, signed and dated 1887

Inscription

To Robert Louis Stevenson
Augustus Saint Gaudens

Youth now flees on feathered foot,
Faint and fainter sounds the flute,
Rarer songs of gods; and still
Somewhere on the sunny hill,
Or along the winding stream,
Through the willows, flits a dream;
Flits, but shows a smiling face,
Flees, but with so quaint a grace,
None can choose to stay at home,
All must follow, all must roam.

This is unborn beauty: she
Now in air floats high and free,
Takes the sun and breaks the blue;—
Late with stooping pinion flew
Raking hedgerow trees, and wet
Her wing in silver streams, and set
Shining foot on temple roof:
Now again she flies aloof,
Coasting mountain clouds and kiss't
By the evening's amethyst.

In wet wood and miry lane,
Still we pant and pound in vain;
Still with leaden foot we chase
Waning pinion, fainting face;
Still with grey hair we stumble on,
Till, behold, the vision gone!
Where hath fleeting beauty led?
To the doorway of the dead.
Life is over, life was gay:
We have come the primrose way.
